SOLEMNLY I STAND HERE

Oh so solemnly he stands,
His face toward the horizon
His back to trudgery, misery -
In his hand,
A battle-scarred lance
Reflects the last golden rays
Of the fleeting sun.

Reminiscing of yesterdays,
He ponders the courage,
and gallantry
That near-failure took
And he shakes apprehensively.

Then he dreams of tomorrow -
Of the joys there'll be,
And the sorrow
And if he will have courage
To face
The challenge of all his tomorrows.

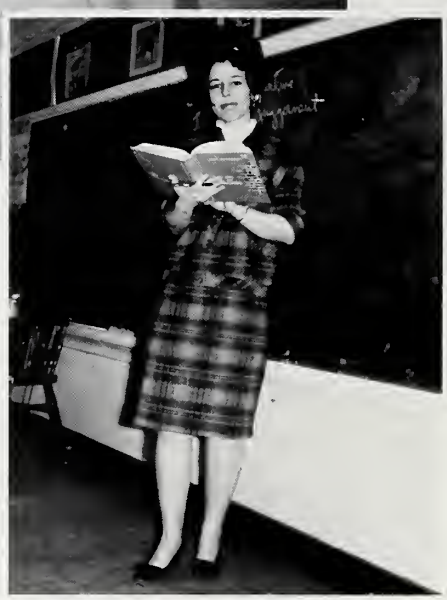
Dedication



She gave us her words, her knowledge of understanding, her ideas of education, her unbiased opinions of ourselves. We gave her in return for her labors the one commodity that she so desired - our most appreciative and affectionate respect, ripened with the wisdom she dealt us. We, the class of 1969 dedicate our annual to Mrs. Janyce Oldham.

ADMINISTRATION

J. M. Turnage

TO THE SENIORS:

I wish to express to the Senior Class my deep appreciation for having given me and your teachers the opportunity to work with such fine young men and women. I have the greatest faith, respect, and confidence for you in your endeavor in the years ahead.

We need to dispel the idea that everyone must fit into a neat little mold and realize that different people are cut out for different roles in society. We also need to return to the dignity of work. Too many people want to be bosses. We need to realize the need for workers. Always take pride in your work and receive the satisfaction of a job well done.

May God bless you and be a constant companion always.

Sincerely,
J. M. Turnage

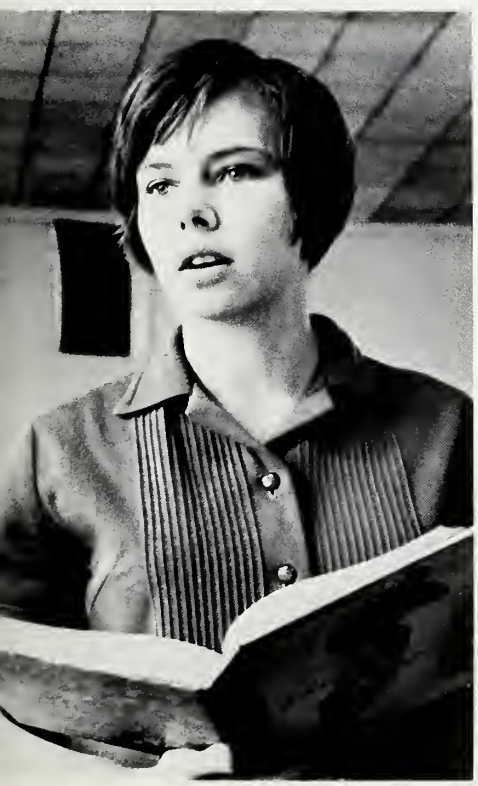
FACULTY

Communication — The Key to Individualism



Math

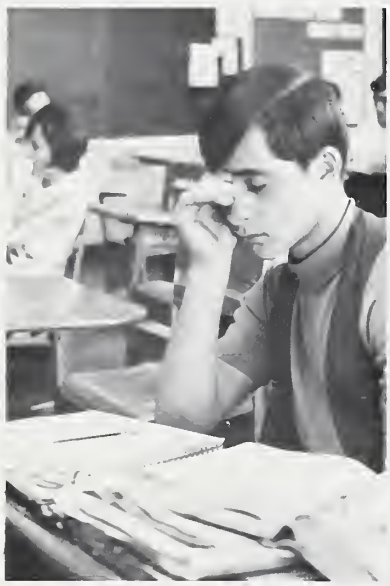
Under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Spivey and Mr. Durward Jones, the school worked toward its goal of helping the department establish a broad education in the field of Mathematics. Advanced Math, and General Math, Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, and Consumer Math successively provided a general coverage, as well as, college preparatory work.

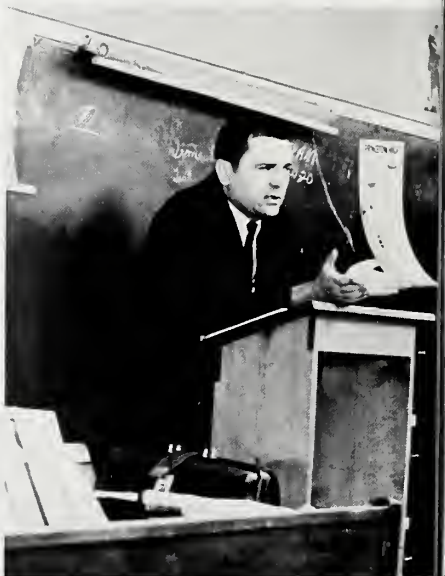
They believe that mathematics has cultural as well as practical value. Also, they cling to the theory that used to be called formal discipline, which insists that the mental discipline required in the study of mathematics affects one's approach to and solutions to other problems.

Science Department

From atoms to infinity, the world of science is a world for the curious and the persistent, as instituted by Mrs. Claudia Hollowell and Mr. Thomas Powell.

Social Studies





An understanding of the past provides us with the key to the future. With this thought in mind, the Social Studies Department sets its goal under the direction of Mr. Ronald Watson, Mr. William Dixon, and Mr. Joel O'Neal.

Business Department

Mrs. Gay B. Vann and Mrs. Janette Boyette

Physical Education

Home Economics

Girls and boys in Home Economics are taught fundamental ideas about nutrition, home management, family living, and clothing design and construction by Mrs. Mary Lynn Aycock.

Agriculture

Agriculture is a highly dynamic, rapidly changing industry which offers in its entirety great occupationally opportunities to rural youth everywhere. The department is under the supervision of Mr. Milton Ingram and Mr. Vernon Ballard.

"Listen, we're making the break at 10 instead of 2, O.K.?"
